

National Park Brake

Do you always hate when you put new pads on and the very next day they drive around the course with the park brake on . I made some plates up and mounted a micro switch off a club car hooked it up to the safety switch wire nearby , so when the park brake is on the machine shuts off . I also moved the battery to this location because it was always buried in grass before . These mod.s are around 5,6 years old when I helped the tech at the other course during the winter . love problem solving. I don't think he ever replaced the switches since they were put on .
